The Organizer is a practical, patient, reliable, and masterful steward who channels the energy of divine flow into practical form. As an Organizer, you are attuned to the art of manifestation through proper placement, and innately know that putting things in their rightful place simplifies life and creates freedom. You may be known as a coordinator, developer, arranger, facilitator, promoter, designer, consultant, instructor, coach, director, manager, or planner.

As an Organizer, you are intimately connected to the divine order which is at play in the Universe. You have an eagle's eye for detail, and can connect resonant objects, people, and energies in ways that other people simply cannot. You have the high-value gift of assigning things their rightful place, especially in your chosen area of interest and expertise. Your superpower is sensing when something is missing; when it is, you can instinctually and immediately modify and restructure to promote the harmony and success of the whole.

You support people, businesses, and organizations in systematizing and grounding abstract ideas and concepts for practicality and profit. You're respected for your unique genius of composing and implementing process-based actions that support smooth operations and successful outcomes. You're a skilled problem solver with the exceptional ability to modify or restructure current systems to increase flow and make systems more user-friendly.

You have high standards and ideals, and are familiar with the fine line between great work and perfectionism. You expertly balance the process of creating the best solution with an imperative to bring a project to completion. Despite your high level of commitment to the task at hand, you practice detachment, and are humble enough to know that there are limits to what can be done with any set of conditions, resources, and time. As a result, you aim for simplicity, practicality, and longevity. When you hit your mark, you are thrilled to pieces—and when you have to compromise to get the job done, you surrender, make peace, and move on.

The Shadow of The Organizer

If you find yourself stuck in perfectionism, you have become too attached to your ideals and are stuck in the trap of "getting it right." You are being driven by your ego to be hyper-focused on an unattainable outcome. In the grip of this relentless contraction—which shows up as tightness in your jaw and gut—you can become seriously uptight, and squeeze the life right out of your project, your team, and yourself. When this happens, something is bound to break or break down; chances are, it will be you.

You know that "where there's a will, there's a way." However, when your will is not aligned with divine will, you will inevitably run into obstacles. More, you can become superlatively stubborn. This internal lockdown stops all forward momentum, and is frustrating not only for you, but for everyone you work with. When you are in a state of major resistance, you will not allow any new ideas or solutions to reach you; it's your way or the highway. No matter how brilliant you are, if you can't be flexible and solutions-oriented, no one will want to work with you.

It is good to look at things from all sides, and include possible failure scenarios in your calculations, but if you allow yourself to become too stressed or uptight you can become a major skeptic. Such a level of doubt will squeeze the life out of all possibilities, and render you unable to find the solutions you need. You'll remain stuck and unproductive until you shift your attitude.

If you find yourself in the shadow of The Organizer, chances are that you're overworked, too attached to outcomes, and cut off from your soul. It's time to put down "doing" and practice "being" so you can reconnect with divine order. You need to reconnect with Source and balance yourself through both meditation and a physical adventure like hiking, sailing, or traveling.
